NEW-YORK CONSULATE OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WHEELMEN AND THE SPEEDWAY.

A FORMAL STATEMENT PREPARED BY SENIOR CONSUL-NO DEMAND ON THE PART OF WHEELMEN TO BE ALLOWED TO USE THE THOROUGHFARE.

at the local headquarters of the organization, in the Vanderbilt Building. Considerable interest was manifested in the meeting, for it was expected that the wheelmen would take some positive action regarding the controversy over the use of the Speedway by cyclists. While it was known that none of the League of American Wheelmen officlais sympathized with the principal in the case, it would take as an organization.

When W. F. Doll went to George E. Miner, of the League of American Wheelmen, and procured a membership blank he drew a check for $2, the regular membership fee. Mr. Miner says he informed Mr. Doll that he was probably joining the League of American Wheelmen under a misrepresentation that it would stand behind him in his fight to use the Speedway, and he offered to return the check. ing to his own statement, forwarded it to Mr. Doll by mail on the following morning.

At the meeting of the consulate yesterday the senior consul was authorized to make a formal statement, and Louis Rosenfeld drew up the following: wing:

"way should a bicyclist wish to ride on the "The only "The only "

"In 1888 he is not suffering for the want of recognition. The States, counties and cities are doing what they can for him, and will in time do more. In fact, the cyclist, as such, no longer exists. Those who are not cyclists are the exception, and a person who rides a cycle is no more a cyclist than he is a pedestrian when he walks. He does not enter a separate class when he does either.

"We are told, however that in yielding any part of the 'Liberty bill' the League of American Wheelmen is unfaithful to its trust. This is absurd. It is the argument of those who never learn and never forget anything. The League of American Wheelmen can give as well as take. Time was when it had to fight for the very right of bicyclists to exist. All this is past. Now we are working for good roads. If any question of establishing, maintaining and defending the rights of cyclists should arise, the League is prepared to enter the arena at short notice. It does not, however, intend to lend its aid to persons who have been for years 'thinking of' joining it, and who, finding them-selves in 'difficulties' through crotchetty notions, knock at its doors for admission. The League wants more members. It is eager for them. It urgently appeals for more, but there is a class that it does not want, and, let it be thoroughly understood, it does not agree to fight the battle of any member when the officials of the League think he is in the wrong. The first principle of establishing and maintaining the just rights of any person or community of persons is to respect the rights of others.

"The League of American Wheelmen, through its

"The League of American Wheelmen, through its "The League of American Wheelmen, through its city organization, the local consulate, early in June declared to the horsemen at the Windsor Hotel that it disclaimed any right to the use of the Speedway. Whether the roadhed is the kind best adapted for riding bicycles is merely incidental, and does not enter into the question.

"It is said that the League has entered into a bargain, yielding something for something else. I can only say is answer that no bargain has been made, and there is no organization among the horsemen to make one with, if we were even inclined that way."

OF INTEREST TO WHEELMEN.

Considerable talk has been indulged in during recent years about securing a destrable country house for cyclists, but little effective work has been done. The scheme was tried on Long Island once or twice, but met with failure each time. Now a project is men, is the chief worker. The promoters have said nothing of their project for publication up to this nothing of their project for publication up to this time. Now it is announced that the plans have been perfected, and that work on the country house will be started immediately. The clubhouse will be back of the new grandstand at Berkeley Oval. The plans call for a large building, with all the comforts and conveniences necessary for touring cyclists. There will be a large dining-ball, bowling alleys, billiard-room, cardroom and baths. A stock company has been formed, and it was said yesterday that sufficient money had already been subscribed to insure the success of the venture.

early next spring. This will furnish the needed outlet to the good roads beyond the Harlem. At present First-ave is asphalted, except between One-hundred-and-tenth-st, and the Harlem River, and the organ'zed wheelmen are thinking of agitating the subject of asphalting that street between these blocks. This improvement would be appreciated by both wheelmen and drivers now, and it would be doubly advantageous as soon as the new bridge is epen.

Wheelmen in both boroughs will be glad to know that Bedford-ave., Brooklyn, is to be repaired. Bids will be opened to-day by the Commissioner of Highways for repairing and maintaining the asphaited streets of the Borough of Brooklyn, Bedford-ave, has been in a frightful condition for a year, and as this is the principal thoroughfare used by the cyclists and drivers living in the Eastused by the cyclists and drivers living in the Eastern District of Brooklyn and those coming from the upper part of Manhattan, its condition has aroused much unfavorable comment. Among the other streets to be repaired or asphalied are the following: Park Place, from Flatbush to Vander-bilt-ave; St. Mark's, from Flatbush to Carleton-ave; Berkeley place, from Flatbush-ave to Lincoin Place; Hancock'st., from Nostrand to Fompking-ave; Clinton-ave, from Fulton-st. to Atlantic-ave; Sixth-ave. Livingston-st. Seventh-ave., Lee-ave., Division-ave., Joralemon-st., Clinton-st., Cumberland and Schermerhorn ats. and Grand-ave.

Estell; financial secretary, Thomas Johnson; treasurer, George Metcalf; captain, Ira G. Metcalf; lieutenant, William Cooper; color-bearer, James Wilson, and sergeant-at-arms, James M. Cooper. The schedule of the club runs for July and August is

The following order in the interest of cyclists has been issued by the Street Cleaning Department "In the interest of the thousands of wheelmen of "In the interest of the thousands of wheelmen of this city, and in protecting them from the danger of accident and bodily harm, it will be the duty of district superintendents to cause all men of this Department under their direction (foremen, de-tailed men, sweepers and drivers) to remove to the curb or into the ashcart any obstructions in the roadway, such as stones, brick, or any such arti-cles apt to throw a bicycle rider."

"Tom" Linton, of the National Track Team Association, is delighted that the hour record should have been broken in this country, as it will give him an opportunity to reduce the time still further for the distance. In the race in which this record was broken Linton had already defeated Taylore by more than a sixth of a mile in a thirty-mile race, after which he quit. Taylore continued, and added nearly another mile to the time. Had Linton, continued for the record, with his lead, he would have added another half-mile to the distance cov-ered in the hour.

Athletic Club, who was assaulted by "Al" Weinig. the Buffalo professional, at Manhattan Beach on June 25, is suffering from a fractured jaw, and he may not ride again for several weeks. In addition he had several teeth knocked out. If it said that Roome may take the case into the courts. Weinig has been fined 80 by the Racing Board of the League.

It is semi-officially announced that certain pro-moters intend to conduct a six-day race at the Madison Square Garden next winter whether the League of American Wheelmen sanctions it or not. League of American Wheeimen sanctions it of not.

Under the new rules of the League such a contest as was held last winter cannot be repeated legally.

The L. A. W. permits a seventy-two-hour contest, providing that the riders rest two hours in each twenty-four. The only way a six-day race could be held would be for the riders to ride tweive and rest twelve hours.

Michael is the favorite in the race to take place at Manhattan Beach with Linton on Saturday. Linton's friends, however, are confident that their man's chances to win are of the best. Michael will man's chances to win are of the best. Alchaet what have the advantage over Linton in that he has done his preliminary work at the beach, while Linton has been practising at Boston. About one hundred individual entries have been received for the short-distance races.

Cyclists desiring to join the League of American Wheelmen may obtain full printed information and membership blanks by sending their names and addresses to the Cycling Editor of The Tribune.

"Do many cyclists wish to ride on the Speedway?

"Policemen on duty at the entrance thereto report that the vast majority of cyclists stopping there, amounting nearly to unanimity, state that they approve of the restriction against them.

"I cannot find symptoms of dissatisfaction on the part of the cyclists in regard to the situation, This agitation, by one man, has resulted in the resurrection of the law of 1851, called the "Liberty bill," forbidding the exclusion of cyclists from highways, etc. Well, what of it? Eighteen hundred and eighty-seven is not 1858. The world has moved since 1857. At that time a cyclist was legitimate prey for everybody. He wasn't even respectable, the wore a tag, permitting him to use certain parts of Central Park, and if he was allowed elsewhere it was an oversight.

Entries for the contests for the Rockaway Club cups between pairs of players have not yet been made public, nor has it been definitely arranged when these games will take place. They will, however, be played in the intervals between the playing days of this and next week, the tournament at Cedarhurst closing on July 23.

The Southampton Club cups, presented by P. F. Collier, are to be played for at Cedarhurst, the first game being scheduled to take place July 29 between the Rockaway and Westchester clubs, the winners to play the members of the Staten Island Club on the same field on July 23. The cups are to be considered as individual prizes, and will be won outright, the contests being open to teams of four, whose aggregate handicap does not exceed twenty goals. The teams competing will be made up about as follows: Rockaway — F. Dwight Porter and Rene La Montagne, Jr., forwards; J. Dallett, Jr., No. 3, and George L. Myers, back. Westchester — N. C. Reynal and L. Walerbury, respectively, Nos. 1 and 2; M. Waterbury, No. 2, and 3. Cooley or F. H. Allen, back. Staten Island—C. H. Robbins, No. 1; J. C. Wilmerding, No. 2; Morton Smith, No. 3, and entry, the members being satisfied to win the Cedarhurst Challenge Trophy, as they are confident they will do on Scturday. This leaves the field to the younger players, and, as they have been worked up to a high pitch of enthusiasm, the games for the Southampton cups will no doubt afford lovers of the game some capital sport. Indeed, so far this season the younger players have shown fully as brilliant play as the older poloists, and their games have on the whole been the most interesting from the spectators point of view. This is exactly as it should be, for good polo is nothing if not a game rich in surprises and new developments, and the more new blood infused the less danger there is of play becoming monotonous. cups between pairs of players have not yet been

ARTISTIC RIDING AT BRIGHTON.

STEWARDS SMILED AS PUBLIC FORM WAS SMASHED. Bad weather has less effect upon the attendance at Brighton than at Morris Park, Sheepshead Bay and Gravesend, and the assembly yesterday was thick enough to bring glee to the face of the treasurer. In the field troops of sanguine speculators paid 75 cents each for the chance of losing their money, while the grandstand held a merry company of hopeful persons who had spent $2 each for tickets, and who expected to rob the bookmakers of their frugal pittances. Yesterday's racing was not worth $2 to watch; it was not worth 75 cents; to put out seven cents on it was extravagant. Dally at Brighton long lists of popular horses gant. Daily at Brighton long lists of popular horses are sent out as probable starters. Daily the card is cut to shreds, and most of the famous horses fail to run. The programme is shot full of holes every afternoon. It is riddled as sadly as the Vizevery afternoon. It is riddled as sadiy as the Viz-caya was riddled off the coast of Cuba. It is not fair to treat the racegoers in this way. Suppose that a New-York theatrical manager made a prac-tice of announcing every day that Jefferson and Irving and Bernhardt and Duse would act at every performance, and when he had sold thousands of tickets at high prices he brought out a cast of stars from Mester-st, who played a Cherry Hill Baltimore, July 12—The leaders again outclassed the former champions and won Baltimore's errors were responsible for at least five of Cincinnati's runs. # INTERNATIONAL CHESS.

Vienna, July 13.-The thirtieth round of the inmore, predicting that the Perkepultans would quit in the last month of the race, as the team has done so frequently heretolore.

All the clubs in both minor and major leagues are feeling the effects of the war, and in most cases the clubs are carrying fewer players than has been the case for many years. Brooklyn has fewer players under contract at present than ever before at this time of the year.

This will be "ladies' day" at Washington Park, Brooklyn, and, as it is the first Thursday that the team has played on home grounds in several weeks, a large outpouring of the fair sex is expected.

CORBETT-M'COY MATCH OFF AGAIN.

The contemplated meeting of the representatives of Corbett and McCoy, the fighters, conversationalists and free advertisers, did not take place yesists and free advertisers, did not take place yes-terday, and one of the automatic-continuous-talk-ing machines announced that all negotiations for matching the two men were off for good. The general public is about as weary of the subject as the matchmakers and managers are, and it is to be hoped that there will be no further "conversazione" arranged by these two. Unfortunately, however, as soon as it is positively settled that Corbett and McCoy will not meet and try to rake in the dollars of the public, two other prize-fighters and their managers will force themselves to the front and endeavor to cajole somebody into listening to them.

THE KNICKERBOCKER SMOKER.

The first weekly summer smeker of the Knicker-bocker Athletic Club was held last night, and was eminently successful. The theatre of the club, on the second floor of the clubhouse, was well filled. The programme, which was light vaudeville, was a good one, and the audience was appreciative. The Anglo-American Male Quartet came out with a patriotic medley which proved popular, and called forth several encores. Other features of the pro-stramme were Miss Annie Suite, comedienne, and Miss Lillian Dane, singing and dancing sou-brette; Jennie Devere, contortionist. The opening Manamaters

It is getting along toward the end of the week. Want a bicycle? You can get the Continental on payment of $5 a month, the Humber for $10 a month and the Rodman for $20 outright. There are no better wheels at their prices in the whole world, and that's a strong statement but true.

THIS is the time of year when the patient waiter for bargains receives her reward. Down come the prices on the highclass dress goods, in company with the cottons and medium-priced fabrics of which we have already told you.

Too late? Not at all. It is late for us of course, and hence the reductions. For you, there is ample time to get the full worth of the goods. Here's the story, told mostly in figures.

The reductions are eloquent enough. There is little need of further comment: At $1.50 yd., reduced from $8.50-All-wool colone Grenadine, with bayadere silk plaits in black, on grounds of gray, cardinal, olive, brown or cade opportunities rich. There are some prices here (the linen pillow cases, for example) that are so low as to perhaps make you suspect cotton. Banish the suspicion. Linen here is all flax,-pure linen, with never a thread of cotton or even of tow, which is linen trash. The prices come of legitimate trade causes, -careful, heavy and direct buying from the looms themselves, in France, Ireland, Scotland, Austria and Germany. We offer these in July as a trade matter, to make a busy month of a dull one. A mutual advantage, prefaced by a mutual understanding. TABLE LINEN At 80c, yd.—Bohemian unbleached, 68 in. At 56c, yd.—Unbleached damask, 73 in. At 60c, yd.—Bleached damask, 68 in. At $1.20 yd.—Flemish damask, 72 in.

smoker was so well attended and generally successful as to lead those in charge to believe that the summer smoker will become a standard attraction and be most useful in keeping together the members during the summer months. In connection with the affair should be mentioned the illustrated bulletin announcement, designed by George A. Wotherspoon, a member of the Killitishers. Mr. Wotherspoon's bulletin illustrations are features of the Knickerbocker Club.
